VOLUME CVIII.--NO. 13. ALEXANDRIA, VA., TUESDAY EVENING, JANUARY 15, 1907. PRICE 2 CENTS.

DIED SUDDENLY
OF HEART DISEASE.

How frequently does a head line similar to the above greet us in the newspapers. The rush, push and strenuousness of the American people has a strong tendency to lead up to valvular and other affections of the heart, attended by irregular action, palpitation, dizziness, smothered sensations and other distressing symptoms.

Three of the prominent ingredients of which Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is made are recommended by some of the leading writers on Materia Medica for the cure of just such cases. Golden Seal root, for instance, is said by the UNITED STATES DISPENSATORY, a standard authority, "to impart tone and increased power to the heart's action." Numerous other leading authorities represent Golden Seal as an unsurpassed tonic for the muscular system in general, and as the heart is almost wholly composed of muscular tissue, it naturally follows that it must be greatly strengthened by this superb, general tonic. But probably the most important ingredient of "Golden Medical Discovery," so far as its marvelous cures of valvular and other affections of the heart are concerned, is Stone root, or Collinsonia Can., Prof. Wm. Paine, author of Paine's Epitomy of Medicine, says of it:

"I, not long since, had a patient who was so much oppressed with valvular disease of the heart that his friends were obliged to carry him up-stairs. He, however, gradually recovered under the influence of Collinsonin medicinal principle extracted from Stone root, and is now attending to his business. Heretofore physicians knew of no remedy for the removal of so distressing and so dangerous a malady. With them it was all guess-work, and it fearfully warned the afflicted that death was near at hand. Collinsonin unquestionably affords relief in such cases, and in most instances effects a cure."

Stone root is also recommended by Drs. Hale and Ellingwood, of Chicago, for valvular and other diseases of the heart. The latter says: "It is a heart tonic of direct and permanent influence."

"Golden Medical Discovery," not only cures serious heart affections, but is a most efficient general tonic and invigorator, strengthening the stomach, invigorating the liver, regulating the bowels and curing catarrhal affections in all parts of the system.

Nasal
CATARRH
In all its stages.
Ely's Cream Balm

Cream Balm is placed into the nostrils, spreads over the membrane and is absorbed. Relief is immediate and a cure follows. It is not drying—does not produce sneezing. Large Size, 50 cents at Druggists or by mail; Trial Size, 10 cents.

ELY BROTHERS, 56 Warren Street, New York.

Color of Hair Said to Indicate a Person's Temperament.

Many people believe that blonde, or light hair denotes affection and dark hair constancy. A person without hair is not devoid of character; far from it. The disposition of the average baldheaded man is to show such solicitude for the welfare of others, that he neglects himself. A germ causes baldness. Prof. Sabouraud, of Paris, France, innoculated a rabbit with Dandruff germs, causing it to become totally bald in five weeks' time. To rid the scalp of these dangerous germs it is necessary to apply Newbro's Herpicide.

"Destroy the cause—you remove the effect."

Two sizes—50 cents and $1.00.

Rheumatism

I have found a tried and tested cure for Rheumatism! Not a remedy that will straighten the distorted limbs of chronic cripples, nor turn bony growths back to flesh again. That is impossible. But I can now surely kill the pains and pangs of this deplorable disease.

In Germany—with a Chemist in the City of Darmstadt—I found the last ingredient with which Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy was made a perfected, dependable prescription. Without that last ingredient, I successfully treated many, many cases of Rheumatism: but now, at last, it uniformly cures all curable cases of this heretofore much dreaded disease. Those sand-like granular wastes, found in Rheumatic Blood, seem to dissolve and pass away under the action of this remedy as freely as does sugar when added to pure water. And then, when dissolved, these poisonous wastes freely pass from the system, and the cause of Rheumatism is gone forever. There is now no real need—no actual excuse to suffer longer without help. We sell, and in confidence recommend

SENATOR BAILEY'S ORDEAL.

Senator Bailey sat in his room at the hotel in San Antonio, Texas, yesterday and heard reports every five minutes of the debate in both the Senate and House on the resolutions to investigate the charges against him with reference to complicity in Waters-Pierce Oil affairs and large loans from H. Clay Pierce. A vote on the resolutions will not be had until tomorrow.

Three hours of debate in the House will bring the vote that is to show the strength of the factions. That of the Senate factions developed yesterday in a vote to adjourn, being 14 against and 15 for Bailey. Of the three absentees the anti-Bailey men claim all.

Senator Bailey is seemingly reconciled to a searching investigation. He is summoning his supporters to the capital. The anti-Bailey clans are gathering there also. Inauguration is the excuse, but they are all engaging lodgings by the week. Never before has the Texas Legislature received so many petitions from the people, nor have the people generally before this held so many mass-meetings to condemn a public official. Of the petitions, more are against Bailey than for him, but the disproportion is not great.

Feeling has become intense, however, and several personal encounters between members have been narrowly averted. Fear is felt that a riot may occur before the investigation shall be completed, but this is not likely.

In Austin, the scene of the battle, sentiment is overwhelmingly opposed to Bailey. In the Congregational Church Sunday, Dr. J. W. Briggs delivered a sermon directed at the Bailey situation, in which at dramatic intervals the three-score members of the Legislature present with the large congregation half rose, and, with difficulty, suppressed cheers or hisses. Alluding to the influences alleged to be at work with the Legislature, the speaker said:

"The snakes of Tenedos are after our beloved country today. They are winding themselves about our beloved State and about the Senate of the nation. They hiss in those mighty corporations of remorseless capital and ravenous greed. They hiss in the ears of our legislators when conscience bids them to do their duty. They hiss in the ear of the politician, 'You'll ruin all your political prospects.' They hiss in the ear of the common man. 'You had better not quarrel with your bread and butter.'

In the Senate tactics of obstruction are being pursued and the investigation may be made by the House alone if the Senate does not act by Wednesday afternoon, when the vote will be taken in the House.

It is from the office of the Attorney-General that most of the evidence is to come. Much of this has been made public. It is asserted by the officers of the department that much more is ready to be submitted.

Mr. Bailey will not leave Austin until the election is over, and many members believe this will keep him away from Washington throughout the short session of Congress.

DEFENSES OF THE CHESAPEAKE

During the course of a speech on the fortifications appropriation bill in the House yesterday, Representative Keifer, of Ohio, dwelt at some length upon the importance of the fortification of the mouth of Chesapeake Bay, between Capes Charles and Henry. He said the proposed defense was a matter of the first importance, and that the Taft board on July 21, 1905, had so considered it. Representative Maynard gave notice that he would offer an amendment when the bill comes up under the five-minute rule, providing a sum of money to make surveys.

"Coast defenses or land batteries," said Gen. Keifer, "always have been and always will be regarded as superior with like or equivalent guns to ships however armed or armored or to anything afloat."

He said that Cervera's sailing into Santiago furnished no example to warn a hostile fleet not to sail into Chesapeake Bay. On the contrary, this bay, now open to friend and foe alike, would invite a fleet from across the Atlantic to find a safe abiding place therein and harbors from whence it could operate as circumstances might permit; and it would be possible for a formidable hostile fleet, when once within the bay itself to close it against our ships of commerce or of war, and thus cut off Washington, Baltimore, Annapolis, Richmond, and Norfolk from the ocean.

Does Coffee disagree with you? Probably it does! Then try Dr. Shoop's Health Coffee. "Health Coffee" is a clever combination of parched cereals and nuts. Not a grain of real Coffee, remember, in Dr. Shoop's Health Coffee, yet its flavor and taste matches closely old Java and Mocha Coffee. If your stomach, heart, or kidneys can't stand Coffee drinking, try Health Coffee. It is wholesome, nourishing, and satisfying. It's safe even for the youngest child. Sold by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, druggist.

Make a note now to get Ely's Cream Balm if you are troubled with nasal catarrh, hay fever or cold in the head. It is purifying and soothing to the sensitive membranee that line the air-passages. It is made to cure the disease, not to fool the patient by a short, deceptive relief. There is no cocaine nor mercury in it. Do not be talked into taking a substitute for Ely's Cream Balm. All druggists sell it. Price 50c. Mailed by Ely Bros., 56 Warren Street, New York.

Mr. Keifer said that the War Department estimate for building an island on the shoals between Capes Charles and Henry is $2,600,000, including $400,000 for the purchase of the required lands.

Mr. Fitzgerald, of New York, in opposing the suggestion, said that no one knew how much it would cost to build such ground as contemplated. He said the Endicott board has looked upon the scheme as wholly unnecessary. There have been no borings or soundings made, and it was foolish, he suggested, to say how much the building of the island would cost.

Mr. Maynard, of Virginia, in explaining the report of the Taft board, said it contemplated the erection of an island about fifty acres in extent on the middle ground between the capes, which would do away with the fortified island called Wool Island.

Mr. Maynard insisted that the defenseless condition of the Chesapeake warranted serious consideration for the matter, because no one knows when the peace between the United States and the world shall be broken.

A Tragic Finish.

A watchman's neglect permitted a leak in the great North Sea dyke, which a child's finger could have stopped, to become a ruinous break, devastating an entire province of Holland. In like manner Kenneth McIver, of Vanceboro, Me., permitted a little cold to go unnoticed until a large tragic finish was only averted by Dr. King's New Discovery. He writes: "Three doctors gave me up to die of lung inflammation caused by a neglected cold; but Dr. King's New Discovery saved my life.' Guaranteed best cough and cold cure at E. S. Leadbeater & Son's drug store. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

Bulgaria and Servia.

The frequency of the conflicts between Bulgarian and Servian bands in Macedonia is so seriously embittering the relations between the two countries that the newspapers of Belgrade are sounding notes of warning. They point out the necessity for putting an end to the causes of friction and calming the public mind, declaring that a recourse to war would be disastrous to both countries and would only benefit Austria, to whose interests it is, according to the newspapers, that the two Balkan states should remain on bad terms. The feeling of irritation in Bulgaria was recently illustrated by a threatening demonstration in front of the Bulgarian legation.

An unfounded story was published to the effect that the Servian legation at Sofia had been attacked, the charge d'affaires killed and the Servian flag burned. An excited mob immediately assembled about the Bulgarian legation, and only the hurried muster of a strong military guard prevented an attack on the building.

AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

TUESDAY EVENING, JAN. 15, 1907.

R. J. CAMPBELL, pastor of the London City Temple and recognized head of the English Non-Conformists, is about to make a tour in the interest of a new theology which rejects many of the chief dogmas of the Bible. Mr. Campbell says:

The new theology brushes aside many of the most familiar dogmas still taught from the pulpit. We believe that the story of the fall, in the literal sense, is untrue. We believe that the very imperfection of the world today is due to God's will, and is a working out of himself with its purpose, a purpose not wholly hidden from us. The doctrine of sin, which holds us to be blameworthy for deeds that we cannot help, we believe to be a false view. We reject wholly the common interpretation of atonement, that another is beaten for our fault. We believe not in a final judgment, but in a judgment that is ever proceeding. Every sin involves suffering—suffering which cannot be remitted by any work of another. When a deed is done, its consequences are eternal. We believe Jesus is and was divine; but so are we. His mission was to make us realize our divinity and our oneness with God, and we are called to live the life which he lived.

Onslaughts on the Bible are periodical as are visits of seventeen-year locusts. The book, however, stands, as ever, a rock amid the angry billows. The utterances of such men as Mr. Campbell and Mr. Crapsey rather tend to entrench the Scriptures more firmly in the world, as their criticisms cause people to read for themselves. In a large majority of such cases the observations of the enemies of the Good Book are rejected and its teachings adopted.

ACCORDING to a writer in "The Jewish Outlook," in the United States, the freest country of the globe and the oldest republic, the Jews do not occupy, at least not politically, the position they do in old European lands. The number of Jews in the United States Congress is small, when compared with the number of Jews in the parliaments of other nations. Even in Russia there were in the last Douma proportionately more Jews than are in the Congress of the United States. The same is the case in Germany, Austria-Hungary and France, where in the parliaments Jews are prominently in evidence. In Italy, with her small Jewish population, there is a large number of Jews in Parliament and the most important positions in the Italian Cabinet of Ministers are held by Jews who, moreover, take interest in Judaism. The conditions complained of by the writer may be explained by the fact that the great mass of Hebrews prefer to devote their time and talents to mercantile pursuits, and they manifest but little inclination to leave the same for the purpose of entering the political field. A number of Israelites, however, are now holding honored official positions in the United States, as they have at other periods in the country's history.

AN INTERESTING contest for United States Senator is going on in Rhode Island, in which all three competitors are republicans and millionaires. As usual, it is anticipated that the man carrying the greatest weight of metal and making the most liberal use of it will win. The candidates are George Peabody Wetmore, present Senator; Colonel R. H. Goddard, representative of the fusion of independent republicans and democrats, and Colonel Samuel P. Colt, free lance.

THE TALK of deposing Mr. John Sharp Williams as democratic leader of the House of Representatives has died out as suddenly as it was started. There is no better man in Congress for the position and a large majority of the democratic members are of this opinion. Indeed it is said that the attack on Mr. Williams was made to injure him in his candidacy for the position of United States Senator from Mississippi. The movement against Mr. Williams strengthened, rather than injured him.

IT IS a grave question whether it would not be better to let the Panama Canal in sections, in order to give a chance to contractors of moderate means, instead of making it the object of a vast contracting monopoly. Both canals and railroads have been constructed in sections with great success, and there is no reason why the policy should not succeed in Panama.

THE NEWS received by the interstate commerce commission through Senator Hansbrough in regard to the lack of fuel and food in North Dakota does not bear out Mr. Hill's recent optimistic assurances. When the lives of thousands of people are involved, it is a pity that there should be such a discrepancy.

The House committee on merchant marine and fisheries after a prolonged struggle this morning over the ship subsidy bill, took a recess until four o'clock this afternoon when a vote will be taken on the Littauer substitute for the Senate bill. This provides for mail subsidies only and involves an expenditure of between three and five million dollars a year.

From Washington.

[Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.]

Washington, Jan. 15.

President Roosevelt today promised to start another exposition. It is to be opened at Louisville on March 18th, and the promoters do not want any government money. Senator McCreary, of Kentucky, presented Fred Levy, vice president of the exposition, who asked the President to press the button that will start the machinery of the big show. The President said that it was quite refreshing to receive a visit from an exposition man who was not after a government appropriation, and agreed to press the button on the day of the opening at 1 o'clock, Washington time.

The National Board of Trade convened at the New Willard in its thirty-seventh annual convention to tell the legislative body just what to do during the next few years. This body of advisers is composed of retired millionaires and active business men with an inclination toward expressing thoughts in resolutions on every public subject commanding attention. The assembly was called to order by Frank D. LaLanne, of Philadelphia. He made an annual address in which he spoke of the growth of the national organization under his administration.

Chairman Gaines of the committee on the election of the president, vice president and members in Congress today favorably reported to the House the Tillman bill prohibiting national banks or any corporation organized by authority of Congress, from making money contributions in connection with elections to any political office. It also prohibits any corporation from contributing funds for the election of federal officers.

It is declared at the State Department that there is nothing in the charges made yesterday before the House committee on ways and means against H. D. Pierce, at present the United States Minister to Norway. The fact that Mr. Peirce, while representing the United States before The Hague Tribunal in the matter of the seizure of the schooner J. Hamilton Lewis by the Russian government on the charge of piracy, also represented the owners of that vessel, has always been known by the State Department and many times thoroughly investigated.

Commissioner E. E. Clarke expressed the keynote of the block signal situation as manifested particularly in the Terra Cotta wreck investigation now in session before the Interstate Commerce Commission when he said that safe railway conditions would require the use of a positive and not a permissible block which must be observed, and if a signal showed red a train should stop and wait for five minutes at least. Then if no clear signal was forth coming it would be perfectly proper to flag the train then in the block. This would obviate the possibility of excessive speed, as under cautionary signals for the train it could go no faster than a man would walk.

Frederick Lawrence, a newspaper man, has filed a petition with the Vice President charging that Simon Guggenheim recently elected to the United States Senate from Colorado, practically bought his seat in that body. In a speech before the national convention for the extension of foreign commerce, Secretary of State Root declared for a maximum and minimum tariff system, for ship-subsidy to improve trade in South America; for an improved consular service based on a theory promotion now existing in the army and navy and expounding the doctrine of the administration with reference to the Latin-American countries. For over an hour he discussed the foreign trade and foreign relations of the United States. With reference to the Latin-American countries he said: "What shall be our policy towards the smaller countries between our ports and the Panama canal, those countries in the Carribean and in the West Indies? Some of them have had a hard time, and their lives have been such as to make difficult the maintenance of orderly government. They have been cursed by frequent revolutions. Poor Cuba has suffered. We have done our best to help her and we mean to keep on doing our best. I think the key of our attitude toward these countries can be put in three sentences. First. We don't want to take them for ourselves. Second. We don't want any foreign nations to take them. Third. We want to help them. Now we can help them to acquire the capacity for self government."

Next Tuesday's meeting of the Senate committee on interoceanic canals promises to be an interesting one. The whole question as to whether Congress has not made a big mistake in deciding to construct a lock canal at Panama instead of one at the sea level will likely to be brought up again. In response to the request of the committee the canal commission has forwarded to it data regarding the borings made within the last year to ascertain the character of the foundation upon which it is proposed to build the great Gatum dam upon the strength and efficacy of which depends the entire lock canal plan. The commisson requested the committee not to make the report public, at least until after the committee had had an opportunity to consider it and it is therefore withheld until after next Tuesday's meeting. Chairman Shonts, in forwarding the report, has sent a letter declaring that the foundation is perfectly satisfactory.

The secret service bureau has received a new $10 counterfeit from New York which was taken by one of the big department stores. It is a Buffalo note, check letter D, is made by pasting two pieces of paper together, and was produced by the zinc etching process.

HOUSE.

The House today concluded the general debate on the fortification appropriation bill. Representative Graff, of the appropriation committee, defended that committee for not providing more fortications for the Philippines.

"Does any one suppose Japan would take these islands," he enquired "without considering what we would do to her later? The power of the United States is what protects the islands, not the fortification."

General Grosvenor asked him how he proposed to get soldiers from the United States to the Philippines in time of war. Mr. Graff said ship subsidy was not to be interjected into every discussion.

"They would have to walk," continued the Buckeye statesman, answering his own question.

The House today agreed to the Senate resolution authorizing a leave of absence of three months to homestead settlers in North Dakota, Wyoming, Minnesota, and Montana from the date of the passage of the resolution. This is because of climatic conditions existing in that section and the scarcity of fuel.

Marriage Stopped.

A long-distance telephone, Marriage License Clerk, Williams, Inspector Boardman and Detective Hartigan and Baur, of Washington, foiled an eloping couple from Virginia yesterday, as least temporarily, and in the evening a dejected young man left Washington to return home and secure the consent of his mother, and the prospective bride is at a hotel in tears, being confronted by a friend, awaiting the arrival of her uncle, who will take her home. Ralph W. Lee is the name of the would-be bridegroom, and Miss Helen Nixon is the prospective bride, he being from Ashton and she from Richmond. Lee said he is 18 years old, and Miss Nixon informed Inspector Boardman that she is 20. She is quite pretty. So far as could be learned, Mrs. Lee objected to the marriage solely on account of her son's age.

Albert Sidney Johnston, he aided in the rescue of the survivors. At the breaking out of the civil war he returned to Virginia and was volunteer aide on the staff of General Evans and later that of General Longstreet, to each of whom he rendered conspicuous services. After the war he lived in South America. Captain Rogers was a nephew of Gen. Asa Rogers, formerly auditor of Virginia. He was unmarried.

THE ACCIDENT AT LAWYERS.

The State Corporation Commission in Richmond yesterday afternoon completed and made public its report on the recent wreck at Lawyers, near Lynchburg, on the Southern Railway, in which President Samuel Spencer, of the Southern, and several other people lost their lives. The language of the report is clear and strong.

After commenting on the unsatisfactory service of Operator Jacobs, of Rangoon, and on that of Operator Mattox, at Lawyers, the report places the blame for the accident on Operator Mattox. Commissioner Stuart made the following summary of the paper, setting forth all the material facts:

"The report deals not only with the accident at Lawyers, in which the president of the road lost his life, but with the general conditions under which this and similar disasters have been occurring on the Southern Railway with alarming frequency. It takes up the whole question of organization and management of the Southern system as it affects public safety; points out that the divisions have been too large to be handled by one division superintendent; the lack of discipline developed by the testimony, including failure to properly examine signal men with reference to their qualifications, character and habits; failure to check up the block sheets kept by these signal men; failure to take the necessary precautions for the conduct of passenger service on fast schedules; recommends the enforcement of the law against the corporation; punishment of representatives of the corporation who may be guilty of criminal negligence resulting in injury to person, or loss of life, the punishment to extend to all persons whose criminal negligence has contributed to disaster from the president down."

The commission is without jurisdiction in criminal law in the enactment or enforcement of the law, but it is within the jurisdiction and one of the duties of the commission from time to time to call public attention, as it now does, to what it considers to be needed or desirable remedies for the evils connected with the operation of public service corporations.

The Brownsville Affair.

Consideration of the Brownsville case occupied almost the entire time of the Senate yesterday. Opening with the reading of the President's message transmitting additional evidence secured in Texas by Assistant Attorney General Purdy, three speeches were made in defense of the administration's action in dismissing negro troops from the army.

Two of them were delivered by democrats—Mr. Mallory, of Florida, and Mr. Clay, of Georgia. Mr. Spooner, of Wisconsin, took the floor shortly before adjournment, and will resume his treatment of the subject shortly after the opening today. He discussed the method of impeaching a President and deprecated an investigation of the Brownsville matter.

After many conferences, it was stated last night, the Senate republican leaders have finally arranged the differences that threatened to overthrow the general desire among the republicans to put through a resolution for an inquiry into the Brownsville riot. Under the agreement, tentatively reached, the Senate will adopt a resolution providing for an investigation of the riot itself by the committee on military affairs. When the committeee submits its reports, the Senate will refer it to the committee on the judiciary, with instructions to determine whether President Roosevelt violated the constitution and the laws in ordering that the men of Companies B, C, and D, of the Twenty-fifth Infantry, should be discharged without honor from the service of the United States. This concedes the point for which Senator Foraker has been contending.

Today's Telegraphic News

Catholic Conclave.

Paris, Jan. 15.—The Catholic conclave called to devise some means to reorganize and continue religious services in view of the separation law and the prohibition placed by Pope Pius on conforming with certain of its articles, began at 10 o'clock today, and is expected to continue for three days.

All sessions will be held in the Chateau de La Moutte, near the Paris fortifications, made historically notorious by its occupation by the regents following the death of Louis XIV. Seventy-eight French cardinals, archbishops and bishops attended the conclave, over which Cardinal Lecot, of Bordeaux, is presiding.

Secrecy is the rule of the gathering, but it is known that the principal subjects under discussion in connection with the church and state dispute is the organization of four commissions to take charge, temporarily, at least, of church affairs.

These commissions will draw up rules for church services, which will continue to be held publicly, attend to finances, procure rectories for priests who have been driven from their homes by the government, and finally, arrange for the establishment of new schools for novices to the priesthood.

Comment has been made, even by some of the pro-Catholic newspapers, that the conclave has assembled without one constructive suggestion emanating from Rome to assist the French church leaders to solve the problems they face. There is ample precedent for this course, but churchmen have expressed regret that the Vatican is unable to outline to the bishops some plan which might assist in their deliberations.

The Pearsall-Blaine Wedding.

Philadelphia, Jan. 15.—Mrs. James G. Blaine, jr. daughter of Admiral Hichborn and Lieut. Thomas Stafford Pearsall, were quietly married in the Bellevue Stratford Hotel, at high noon today. The marriage was performed by the Rev. Walter M. Walker, pastor of Epiphany Baptist Church. Only the families of the principals and a few friends were present. Mrs. Blaine had decreed that the ceremony should be exceedingly simple and there were no decorations. The toilettes were not elaborate. Mrs. Pearsall, who is known in society as the "Heliotrope Girl" wore a costume of soft brown chiffon velvet with a hat of corresponding color. The hat was trimmed with long plumes of pale heliotrope. After the wedding Lieut. and Mrs. Pearsall left for New York where they will reside. There will be no wedding trip.

Fitzsimmons to Re-enter Ring.

Philadelphia, Jan. 16.—Bob Fitzsimmons, once heavy-weight champion of the world, and Tommy Burns have been matched for a six-round go to take place here on March 16. A week ago Fitzsimmons announced his willingness to go back into the ring against any heavy-weight except Champion Jeffries. Burns attended the Murphy-Corbett bout here last week, and then agreed to a match, naming Fitzsimmons. The latter has now agreed to the date and conditions. Great interest in the fight has already developed in sporting circles. It is pointed out that the match may cause a reversal of the claims of some of the present heavy-weights, Burns, O'Brien, and others. If Fitzsimmons disposes of Burns it means he must be considered among aspirants for the heavy-weight title.

Alleged Swindle.

New York, Jan. 15—On complaint of a horse-owner that had been swindled out of $70,000 by wire "tappers," the police today instituted a search for members of the gang believed to be responsible for the swindle. A down-town broker was innocently used, according to the police, to work the scheme. He was brought into the game and allowed to win $1,000. He told the horse-owner with whom he was acquainted. The latter was familiar with the "fake wire tapping," game, but the scheme was worked so smoothly that he failed to detect it in time. He was first allowed to win $5,000. Then the wire tappers got him to put up $70,000 on a big bet. They have not been heard from since. Other instances of the game have been reported to the police lately, it is reported, running the total profits of the gang into enormous figures.

Astor Children Ill.

New York, Jan. 15—William Vincent, the eldest son, and Ava Alice Muriel, the daughter of Col. and Mrs. John Jacob Astor, are ill at the Astor mansion, and the physicians fear that they may have contracted erysipelas from their nurse, Marie Pierrot, a French woman, who was taken to Bellevue Hospital last night. The Astors are much alarmed for the safety of the children, who were constantly with nurse Marie, to whom they were much attached. Young William Vincent Astor is a delicate boy. His sister is much sturdier. The mild winter has been the cause of an epidemic of erysipelas in this city and 60 patients are in Bellevue today suffering from the disease. The Board of Health says the disease is prevalent in many parts of the city.

The Monongahela Rising.

Pittsburg, Pa., Jan. 15.—The rivers today reached the highest stage since 1905—21.1 feet being registered at Market street. The Monongahela river is still rising, but slowly. At the local weather bureau the opinion was expressed that the rivers will not rise above 21 5, at this time. The Allegheny river became stationary this morning, with a stage of 21.7 feet at Herr's Island dam, and was reported to be falling slowly at Freeport, the next station above. Light rain is reported at many of the upper river stations this morning, and at Johnstown it is snowing. At nearly all points the rainfall for the last 24 hours was light.

Schooner Ashore.

Norfolk, Va., Jan. 15.—Wrecking steamers left here today to assist the three-masted schooner J. R. Snow, which was reported ashore three miles south of the Portsmouth life-saving station. Captain H. S. Little and the crew of five men were rescued. It is believed the vessel can be saved. The Snow is bound from New York to Miami, Florida.

Twenty Year Battle.

"I was a loser in a twenty-year battle with chronic piles and malignant sores, until I tried Bucklen's Arnica Salve, which turned the tide, by curing both, till not a trace remains," writes A. M. Bruce, of Farmville, Va. Best for old Ulcers, Cuts, Burns and Wounds. 25c at E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, druggists.

Approaching German Election.

Berlin, Jan. 15.—With the election of the new Reichstag only ten days away, indescribable confusion marks the political situation. This is well illustrated through the fact that while there are only 397 members to be chosen, over 1,500 candidates were today officially nominated and they represent eighteen different groups or parties struggling for supremacy. Roughly speaking, German political parties are divided into three groups, the right, centre and left. More or less reactionary conservative and moderate groups comprise the right; the ultramontane clericals, political representatives of the Catholic Church, the centre and radical progressive and reform parties on the left. This classification is incomplete because each division has several branches. The most vigorous campaign is being made by the socialists and with such evident success that government supporters are exceedingly anxious.

Rhode Island Senatorship.

Providence, R. I., Jan. 15.—Judging from the situation when balloting began shortly before noon today, the contest for the United States senatorship will be a long fight. The candidates are Senator George Peabody Wetmore, of Newport, who is seeking re-election; Col. Samuel Pomeroy Colt, of Bristol, and Col. R. H. I. Goddard, of this city. Senator Wetmore and Col. Colt are republicans, while Col. Goddard, although an independent republican, has been selected by the democrats. There are 38 votes in the upper house, and 72 in the lower and no candidate this morning claims more than 45 on a joint ballot.

Governor Stuart Inaugurated.

Harrisburg, Pa., Jan. 18.—A new era in Keystone State politics dawned today when Edward S. Stuart, of Philadelphia, was inaugurated Governor of Pennsylvania, to succeed Governor Samuel W. Pennypacker. A great crowd witnessed the official ceremony, which was simple in character. Chief interest centered in Governor Stuart's address in which he urged vigorous reforms. Politicians said after hearing the address that it was evident that Governor Stuart intended following the lead of his near gubernatorial neighbor, Charles E. Hughes, in making drastic reforms.

Report Denied.

London, Jan. 15.—Denial was given today by a close friend of William Waldorf Astor, the self-expatriated American millionaire, that he has any idea of marrying again. Despite the denial, however, society generally believes the story that he has been showing attentions to a well-known countess which indicates a coming marriage if the countess secures a divorce from her present husband. At present Mr. Astor is reported to be traveling in Italy.

Printing House Burned.

Chicago, Jan. 15.—Fire causing a loss of at least $250,000 destroyed the seven story building occupied by M. A. Donohue & Co., printers, early today. It spread to an eight-story building adjoining on the north. A number of firemen fighting the flames in the basement were overcome by smoke and were carried out by comrades. Others on the roof were hemmed in by flames, but were saved.

New York Stock Market.

New York, Jan. 15.—The stock market held remarkably strong through the first hour in spite of continued exceptional weakness in Northwest. Nearly all the active issues made gains, ranging from small fractions up to 2 points. There was an immense crowd in Northwest at the opening, and as soon as business started, stock was under extreme pressure, being sold and offered down from 197½ to 193.

Railroad Accidents.

William M. Lloyd, groundman, in the employ of the Western Union Telegraph Company, was struck by an engine on the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac Railroad, about five miles south of Fredericksburg, yesterday morning, and injured so badly that he died soon after the accident. About nine miles farther down the road the same engine struck and instantly killed a negro section hand. Lloyd, with several fellow-workmen, was on a hand car when they were overtaken by the engine, the others jumping to safety, but Lloyd, in some manner, fell, and before he could get out of harm's way he was struck and thrown about 40 feet. The engineer in charge of the engine had received instructions from Richmond that his wife was ill. The train dispatcher, it is asserted, gave him the use of the engine in order to save time. Lloyd's home is near Green Springs, Louisa county.

Four persons were hurt and a number of passengers shaken up as a result of a wreck near Benson N. C., early yesterday, when the Atlantic Coast Line Railway's Florida special ran into a large locomotive at the water tank near Benson. None of the trainmen is fatally injured. Two railway mail clerks continued on their run. No passengers suffered severe injuries.

The University.

Mr. Joseph Bryan, of Richmond; Dr. S. C. Mitchell, president of the Richmond College; Dr. Emory Blackwell, president of Randolph Macon College; Dr. Moore, president of the Union Theological Seminary, and representatives of other Virginia schools were yesterday appointed a committee at a conference of educators held in Richmond for the purpose of discussing the practicability of forming a university center in Richmond, around which all the Virginia schools will ultimately gather.

The committee will enter upon the discharge of its duties at once. Joseph Bryan stated that he owned a tenth interest in a desirable tract of 196 acres in a suitable location, which he would donate as a nucleus for the proposed movement. It is promised to have an arrangement similar to that existing at Oxford and Cambridge.

It is practically assured that all the schools of Richmond will take advantage of the opportunity. Each school will be offered a free site at the university center. Those in charge of the enterprise are very sanguine that it will succeed.

It's a pleasure to tell our readers about a Cough Cure like Dr. Shoop's. For years Dr. Shoop has fought against the use of Opium, Chloroform, or other unsafe ingredients commonly found in Cough remedies. Dr. Shoop, it seems, has welcomed the Pure Food and Drug Law recently enacted, for he has worked along similar lines many years. For nearly 20 years Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure containers have had a warning printed on them against Opium and other narcotic poisons. He has thus made it possible for mothers to protect their children by simply insisting on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. Sold by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, druggists.

Floods and Disease.

The high water in the Ohio, Monongahela, Allegheny and Youghiogheny rivers, which threatened a serious flood in the vicinity of Pittsburg, Pa., but which commenced to recede early yesterday, is again rising on account of heavy rains throughout western Pennsylvania during the last 24 hours. The rain is especially heavy along the Allegheny river and its tributaries. A statement issued last night by the United States Weather Bureau, says the rivers are rising gradually and that rain is still falling above Pittsburg. The coal mines along the Monongahela river are flooded and over 3,000 miners are idle. Reports state that considerable live stock has been lost and property damaged, but so far no fatalities have occurred. The effect of the high water on the typhoid fever situation at Pittsburg continues to cause much anxiety. Thirty-seven new cases were reported yesterday.

One death every 15 minutes, four an hour and 96 a day. That is the penalty Chicago is paying for balmy breezes in winter. Influenza, pneumonia and kindred diseases accompany the unusual weather. "Not since the epidemic of 1898-99," says Dr. C. J. Whalen, commissioner of health, in his weekly report, "have conditions been so gloomy and unsatisfactory as at present." The abnormally high temperature, the absence of sunshine and a deficiency of precipitation lower human vitality and give the disease microbes full play. The death rate last week was 17.29. Dr. Whalen figures that 30 per cent. of the population is ill. Cold weather is declared to be the best cure.

Hill's Remedies.

James J. Hill, of the Great Northern Railroad, yesterday declared the lack of sufficient trackage was the cause of the railroad congestion problem.

He said that it would require a permanent investment of $1,100,000,000 a year for five years to provide the railroads of the country with means to handle properly the business already in sight and not allowing for future growth.

His remedies are; An investment of $1,100,000,000 a year for five years to provide facilities to properly handle the business.

Two million tons of steel rails a year to furnish 1,500,000 miles of track required.

Must be more points for exports, more interior markets.

A decentralization of traffic to meet the prohibitory expenses now attached to enlargement of terminals.

A 15-foot canal or channel from St. Louis to New Orleans, to relieve the Middle West and Southwest.

Decline in railroad construction attributed to investors refusing to put money into enterprises under a ban of unpopularity and threatened with confiscation or transfer to the state.

Greater confidence must be established if the vast sums needed are to be available.

Explosion in a Mine.

Seven dead and three injured miners, victims of an explosion, were taken from Mine No. 7 at Clinton, Ind., yesterday. Two hundred miners had descended to the mine for work yesterday morning, and shortly afterward there was an explosion, which shook the interior of the mine, and was followed by blinding clouds of smoke. There was a rush for the bottom of the shaft, and as rapidly as possible the miners were hoisted to the surface. It is believed a miner in entry No. 10 set fire to a keg of powder by a spark from his lighted lamp and the explosion ignited gas in the mine. For several hours it was impossible to enter the mine on account of the heat. The trapdoors had been blown down and air could not circulate in the entries. Temporary doors were arranged and the mine was cleared of smoke, allowing men to enter. The bodies of the dead men were found badly burned and disfigured.

Funeral of Col. White.

The funeral of Col. E. V. White, of White's Battalion, of the Confederate army, took place yesterday in Leesburg at 11 o'clock, and was largely attended. The services were conducted by Elder Durand, of Philadelphia, assisted by Elders Gold, of North Carolina; Bridger, of Manassas, and Eubank, of Maryland. His remains were laid to rest in Union Cemetery, Leesburg. Attending the funeral were the members of Clinton Hatcher Camp, the local chapter, Sons and Daughters of the Confederacy, members and the surviving officers of the six companies of his battalion, officers and directors of the People's National Bank and many civilians, among whom were Senator John W. Daniel, Magnus Thompson, of Washington; Capt. John H. Grabill, of Woodstock, and others.

Father and Son Killed in Saw Mill.

A. J. Phillips and his son, Norman, were instantly killed yesterday morning about nine o'clock by the bursting of the stave joiner at the sawmill belonging to the elder Phillips, located in Hacks Neck, Northumberland county. The father received a wound in the chest. His ribs were crushed in and the right lung exposed. The son was disemboweled. Adolphus Noel, colored, was slightly wounded on the head. A widow and seven children survive the elder Phillips. No cause is assigned for the disaster, as the machinery was without the slightest defect in its construction. The remains were conveyed to the home of the deceased, near Salisbury, Md.

For this section rain or snow and colder tonight. Wednesday partly cloudy, much colder; cold wave by night; winds becoming northwesterly and fresh.

To Manage the Gas Works.

The committee on light of the City Council met last night and selected Mr. Frank Latham to manage the gas works until an examination for eligibles for the office of superintendent of gas has been held. The resignation of Mr. Harry M. Hantzmon as superintendent was accepted by Council last week, and Mr. Latham will take charge upon Mr. Hantzmon's retirement. His salary will be at the rate of $1,000 per year.

The committee directed the clerk to purchase a quantity of gas mains to be used in new work.

The resolution introduced in Council last week for an appropriation of $500 with which to purchase and install gas stoves in this city was referred to the City Attorney for his opinion as to the legality of the proposition.

Alexandria Trades Council.

The meeting last night in the hall on the northeast corner of King and Royal streets in the interest of organized labor in this city under the auspices of the Alexandria Trades Council was largely attended. J. J. O'Donnell, of Newport News, Va., organizer of the Virginia Federation of Labor, delivered an address in which he urged the advisability of establishing local councils in many trades not already represented among the labor organizations of Alexandria. The speaker also called upon the organized bodies to enlarge their membership and to promote a closer organic union between the several branches and the central federation. Measures were taken which, it is thought, will result in the formation of several new trades councils. At the conclusion of the open meeting the council held an executive session.

"Guessing Contest" Party.

A very enjoyable "guessing contest" party was held at the home of Miss Jennye Blondheim, on Cameron street, last evening, in honor of Miss Carrye Fay, of Baltimore. The first lady's and gentleman's prizes were won by Miss Pauline Pretzfelder and Mr. Will Cohen. As a fitting conclusion to the festivities a daintily prepared luncheon was served. Those present were: Misses Pauline Pretzfelder, Rena Kaufmann, Lena Waters, Minnie Berwanger and Carrye Blondheim, of this city, and Miss Carrye Fay, of Baltimore. Messrs. Harry Dachslager, Jerome Kaufmann, Leon Pretzfelder and Chas. Blondheim, of this city, and Messrs. Abe Blumenthal, Morris Blumenfeld, Raymond Blumenfeld and Mr. Will Cohen, of Washington.

Social Session.

Alexandria Lodge of Elks held an interesting meeting last night at their hall, southeast corner of Prince and Royal streets. There was a large attendance and business of importance to the organization was transacted. Eight new members were initiated. After the close of the lodge a social session was held during which refreshments were served. The fun lasted for several hours and wit and humor was the rule. The presentation of presents to several members was an amusing feature and the fines imposed for imaginary offenses provoked much laughter. A number of felicitous speeches were made. Mr. F. P. Russell was chairman of the social session and conducted the affair in his inimitable way.

Sons of Confederates.

At a called meeting held last night at Confederate Veterans' Hall, preliminary steps were taken for the organization of a local camp of the Sons of Confederate Veterans. Mr. C. S. Taylor, presided. A number of young men were present and manifested considerable interest in the movement toward reorganizing the Sons of Confederate Veterans. It is probable that another meeting will be held in a short time for further action. Arrangements were made for the attendance of the sons and grandsons of Confederate Veterans in a body at the memorial services to be held in Christ Church Saturday at noon in commemoration of the birth of Gen. Robert E. Lee.

W. & O. Train Wrecked.

The passenger train of the Southern Railway, on the Bluemont division, due to arrive in Leesburg at 7 o'clock Sunday night, was derailed by an open switch near the freight depot at that place, and badly wrecked. The engine, tender and baggage car ware piled on the sides of the track, which was torn up several hundred yards. Four passengers were in the night coach, but no one was injured. Traffic was delayed for several hours by the accident.

The Weather.

The weather was cloudy and rainy again this morning, and at times the heavens were overcast to such an extent that people indoors were compelled to use artificial light. The temperature in the meantime began to fall and there were a number of showers during the day.

There was a high tide in the river this morning, and in the channel a strong current prevailed.

Accused Dismissed.

Two young men were arrested last night by Lieutenant Bettis and Officers Knight and Ferguson on suspicion of stealing $25 from an acquaintance in a room in the Braddock House. They were brought before Justice Caton in the Police Court this morning, when it appeared that the complainant and defendants were drunk, and no evidence having been adduced against the accused, they were discharged.

Postponed.

John Wilson and Madison Jackson, both colored, arrested several days ago on suspicion of stealing 200 pounds of rice from the wharf of the Norfolk and Washington Steamboat Company, were again brought before Justice Caton in the Police Court this morning, and their case further postponed. Another charge has been brought against Wilson, that of the unlawful sale of cocaine.

U. S. Court.

[Judge Edmund Waddill presiding.]

The court this morning again took up the case of the Alexandria National Bank vs. the Willis C. Bates Company, of Boston. The case which had been in progress since last Friday went over yesterday on account of the illness of one of the jurymen, W. A. Watson, of Stafford. When the case was called this morning the clerk read a certificate from the surgeon of the Emergency Hospital in Washington stating that another of the jurymen, Jos. Cooper, of Fredericksburg, was in that institution, having been thrown from a street car in Washington this morning and seriously injured. By consent of counsel on both sides the case was proceeded with, with but ten jurymen in the box.

After some time spent in argument Mr. Brent, attorney for the Bates Company, moved to take the case from the jury and leave it with the judge to decide, and gave his reasons for the motion, which was vigorously contested by Mr. Carlin, attorney for the bank.

After hearing arguments pro and con Judge Waddill granted the motion, took the case from the jury and instructed them to find for the Bates Company on the ground that it had not been proven that A. H. Bardine, who had the draft for $2,750 cashed at the Alexandria National Bank, was sufficiently identified with the Bates Company to entitle him to draw sight drafts on that company. The judge in his remarks said that the bank had been robbed, which was pretty hard on the bank, but it would be much harder to make the Bates Company pay the loss.

A motion for a new trial was overruled and exceptions were noted by Mr. Carlin.

The judge complimented Mr. Carlin on the clearness of the instructions which he had drawn and in discharging the jury felicitously congratulated them that they were neither sick nor dead.

As previously stated, the object of the suit was to recover the sum of $2,752 from the Bates Company, representing the amount of a draft drawn by A. H. Bardine, an alleged agent for the company. In the declaration filed the bank alleged that it cashed the draft for Bardine, as agent for the Bates Company, and it was set forth that several drafts drawn by Bardine prior to the one in litigation were honored by the Bates Company. The Bates Company denied that he was their agent when he drew the draft in contention.

The judgment of the court carried the costs against the bank.

Court adjourned for the term.

Holiday Crowds.

For some men it is sufficient recreation to have no work. The moment that the "knapsack of custom" falls from their backs they are happy. Not to awake in the morning with the thought of what must be done in the day is in itself a sufficient recreation. Naturally, they have no very definite taste in holidays. They go where it suits their purses or their wives or their children. To such men, though they may spend all their working days in the thick of a town, the sight of nature never becomes a necessity. It is a luxury, an agreeable augmentation of the sense of doing nothing. A holiday maker of this type very often goes to a watering place, one of those resorts which it is now the fashion for cultivated people to despise. Such contempt is affectation. A number of happy people create, no doubt, an exhilarating atmosphere. Well behaved pleasure seekers make an agreeable and ever changing picture. A well kept public garden, a good band and a fine view form attractions which no continental affects to despise, and English people do not despise it either if only the brightly dressed crowd should happen to talk in a foreign tongue.—London Spectator.

The Englishman Abroad.

An English observer says that he finds the American abroad both civil and genial: "I climbed to the top of Notre Dame in Paris and found there a party from across the Atlantic enjoying lunch. The day was hot, and a young man in the group offered me a refreshing drink. At the top of the lacework in marble which is the spire of Milan cathedral three English speaking men met accidentally—an American, an English clergyman and myself. He who hailed from the land of the stars and stripes offered me his field-glass; the other did not even return our good morning salutation. In a beer garden at Lucerne I followed the custom of the continent and asked permission before sitting at a table of those already seated there. The only one who did not raise his hat and reply was an Englishman, and the only one to make excuses for him was a young man who prefixed his words with 'I guess.'"

Parchment.

Parchment is the skin of sheep or other animals prepared in sheets to render them fit for being written upon. The heavier parchment, used for drumheads, is made from skins of asses, older calves, wolves and goats. All these are similarly prepared. The skin, being freed from the hair, is placed in a lime pit to cleanse it from fat. The pelt is then stretched upon a frame, care being taken that the surface is free from wrinkles. The flesh is then pared off with a circular knife. It is then moistened and whiting spread over it. The workman then with a large pumice stone rubs the skin. He next goes over it with an iron instrument and rubs it carefully with pumice stone, without chalk. The skin is gradually dried, tightening being occasionally required.

A Literary Prize.

The largest amount ever offered as a prize for a literary contribution is 1,500,000 rubles, which is still open for competition and will be awarded at St. Petersburg on Dec. 1, 1925, to the writer of the best history of Alexander I. of Russia. Araktcheief, founder of the military colonies of Novgorod, left a fortune of 50,000 gold rubles to provide for this unique prize. The prize giving day is the centenary of the Czar Alexander's death, by which time the money will, it is estimated, have increased to 2,000,000 rubles. One-fourth of it will be used to defray the cost of publishing the work which wins the prize.

At Which Age?

An amusing discussion recently took place between an artist and an author as to which period of her life a woman was the most fascinating. According to the artist a woman should not be painted between the ages of twenty-five and forty, as she was in the greatest transition period of her life. The author, on the other hand, declares that she is at the height of her fascination and beauty between the ages of thirty and forty. The question is still unsettled.—Bremen Zeitung.

Sea Snakes.

Sea snakes are very plentiful in the south Pacific. They are widely distributed, stray individuals having been secured on the coast of New Zealand. When swimming close to the surface they exactly resemble an ordinary snake, except that the head is always below water. At night they come ashore and lie among the rocks. They feed on fish and, although their small double fangs appear harmless, they are reported to be very venomous.

Clean Young Men.

There are plenty of bright young men in the country whose hands have not been soiled by the dirt of latter day politics. It will be a good thing for the state and for the nation to have them come forward and take an active part in public affairs. It will be a good thing for any party that recognizes them and gives them proper encouragement.—Knoxville Journal and Tribune.

The Sale of Muslin Underwear is the Best and Biggest in Our History

The women who are concern with the getting of most for their money will find deep interest in this annual sale of Muslin, Nainsook and Cambric Underwear. Quality has not been sacrificed in order to make the prices low, this store does not operate on such a principal. We've seen to it that our high standards have been rigidly upheld in every detail, no matter how trifling those details may seem to some stores. Although prices of cotton fabrics have been way up, for a long time, we have found it possible to give the rarest kind of bargains. Note the fineness of materials, the careful making, the pretty trimmings you may be sure the savings are genuine. Hoping to be favored with your presence, we remain, yours truly,

The Origin of a Word.

The London Chronicle tries to trace the origin of the word "typhoon." "Tai-fung," it is explained in some dictionaries, is Chinese for "a great wind," and since the typhoon is a phenomenon of the Chinese seas it seems conclusive. But there is no doubt apparently that "typhoon," which Hakluyt spelled "touffon" and Dampier "tuffoon," comes to us through Portuguese for the Arabic, Persian and Indian "tufan," and it is almost impossible not to see in this a relation of the ancient Greek "typhos" or "typhon," a whirlwind. But these are practically identical with the Greek word for smoke or vapor, from which come our "typhus" and "typhoid." So perhaps the Chinese part of it is only an extraordinary linguistic coincidence, after all.

Luminous Paint as Night Lights.

The connection between earthquakes and luminous paint would hardly be apparent to any one without explanation. It nevertheless exists, and the use to which it is put invests it with the utmost importance just for the few critical moments of the shock. In the Philippine Islands, where earthquakes are not uncommon, small metallic plates coated with luminous paint are so placed about the premises that at the first warning the inmates are quickly guided to the door and thus to the street. In Manila it is laid on in patches about the bedrooms and staircases, serving as guides for the door handles and the stairs, night lights being considered especially dangerous, as likely to set fire to the falling houses and thus to roast the inmates in their own homes.

Propitious.

An English daily had the following advertisement: "Wanted—A gentleman to undertake the sale of a patent medicine. The advertiser guarantees it will be profitable to the undertaker."—Christian Register.

The Correct Explanation.

"Yes," said Dubbey, the actor, "I had a splendid part in the show, but I—er—took sick and"—
